

Extreme Village Makeover Team,

I wanted to take the time to first thank Wyndham and their exceptional staff for getting us involved in the EVM. From the moment it was brought to our attention we were excited to be involved in this great cause. The Wyndham staff rose to the occasion at every level to see that this vision was completed for the GKTW children. Our hats are off to you.

The architectural firm GDP Group was outstanding. GDP was on site and ready to respond to every issue that arose. Working into the night to get drawings and or decision to keep the project rolling was impressive. Jeannie spent many hours being available for inspections with the building department. Without that great working relationship the project could not been completed as scheduled

The City of Kissimmee has restored my faith in government. They should be the model city for the United States. Their assistance with deliveries, trash pickups around the clock, and inspections throughout the day & night. We cannot give enough praise to all involved from the city.

I do not know where to start with the GKTW staff. Our entire staff commented on how tirelessly you worked but always had a smile on your face. It was truly a pleasure and an honor for ICI to have an opportunity to work with such a devoted and exceptional group.

As the project progressed, all of the GC's banded together like teammates and discussed problems and solutions. We shared materials, laughs, and leaned on each other during those intense times. But we never forgot that we had a healthy competition during this period that drove all of our teams.

GKTW vendors that provided material and labor to this project worked within a very tight schedule. Our stock was on site and the ladies at inventory control performed a great job at making sure we had what we needed. Home Depot and Reba were there, providing our supplies around the clock. Great job!

Last but not least. This project took effort from our entire staff and volunteers to be a successful. Being on site and having to opportunity to see our team pull together after long hours of work made me realize what an incredible group of people we do have. Without their extraordinary effort we would have not completed on time.

ICI would like to sincerely thank everyone involved; we all worked hard for a great cause and along the way made many new friends. We look forward to working with everyone in the future.

Sincerely,

Randy, Jim, Josh, and the entire ICI team.

P.S.

Norm, Gary, Jeannie, Michael, and the entire team, remember paybacks for punking most often come back when you least expect them...lol
